

100 years Reichmann at ISPO 2018

Reichmann presents a new edition of the edge tuning wonder DTS-U Pro

As a special highlight to mark the company's 100th anniversary, Reichmann Ski & Board Tuning presented the further-developed new edition of the edge tuning wonder DTS-U Pro at ISPO in Munich. The new DTS-U II RACE thrilled trade visitors with its convincing additional features and outstanding edge grinding results in the shortest turnaround time.

Uncompromising edge tuning with the DTS-U II RACE

The further developed edition of the Reichmann DTS-U Pro raises the edge tuning to a new level. With the new DTS-U II RACE, no compromises are needed in terms of throughput, handling and quality, says managing director Stefan Reichmann. Due to the modular structure, the grinding machine adapts easily to customer requirements. The DTS-U II is equipped with a precise and easily accessible angle adjustment for side and lower edge. This allows flexible adaptation to the ski type and driving skills of the customer and a high level of operating comfort. Another feature that impressed visitors was the new transport system with binding-free transport. Since loading can be done simultaneously with lower edge processing, even higher throughput is achieved.

New grinding disc "Edge Sanding Plate" for simultaneous removal of the sidewall

A special feature of the new DTS-U II is the newly developed Reichmann "Edge Sanding Plate" for side edge grinding. This revolutionary grinding plate simultaneously grinds the sidewalls when grinding the side edges and thus saves the operator time-consuming manual work. As the trade fair visitors were impressively demonstrated, the grinding plate can be exchanged without tools through a ceramic disc within a few seconds using the "SwitchFix" quick-change system. A flexible and fast adaptation to customer requirements is guaranteed.

Proven HQT technology for thrilled winter sports people

The proven HQT technology from Reichmann with simultaneous processing of both side and lower edges in a single operation allows burr-free and ready to race ski and snowboards in the shortest possible processing time. Winter sports enthusiasts benefit from the best driving characteristics, long service life and maximum safety on the slopes. Stefan Reichmann, Managing Director: "With the DTS-U II, sports retailers and rental companies thrill their customers and save time and effort during the service process - a classic win-win situation".

100 years of grinding expertise "Made in Germany"

In 2018, Reichmann celebrates the 100th anniversary of the family-owned company based in Weissenhorn near Ulm in Bavaria. For 100 years, the company's core competencies have been grinding and cutting. To celebrate the anniversary, Reichmann invited customers and business partners to a booth party on the first evening of the fair. Messe München also awarded Managing Director Stefan Reichmann a jubilee badge.
